

in the country, and if he falls chase and anarchy will follow.

The sifting of facts is bringing out some strong points in favor of the dictator. Among the revolutionists the most prominent leader is Gov. Carranza of Coahuila. Reports received give him certain credits, but say that he is not big enough and strong enough to assume the presidency of Mexico in these troublesome times.

According to navy officers Huerta has done more to protect Americans than the revolutionary chieftains. He has been handicapped often by lack of soldiers, but in a number of cases where demands for protection were made by American representatives, he displayed extraordinary vigor in doing so. One report from a high naval officer states that the majority of Mexican refugees from the interior coming to the east coast assert that Huerta is the strongest man in sight, and that they know of no one else who can cope with the situation.

The Washington Government found it difficult to choose between a sentimental favor of revolutionists who lack leadership and a proclaimed murderer who is the strongest man to restore order. The mediation plan offers a solution.

Navy officers are not displaying the usual excitement which is going on the round. Intervention would mean nothing for them save some heady blockade duty without firing a shot, for Mexico has nothing to fall a navy.

The army does not relish the prospect of a long bushwhacking campaign in rough country, chasing scattered bands of ragged soldiers and unorganized bandits. There is no glory for any army officer in such a campaign. So the army and navy are in reality peace advocates so far as Mexico is concerned.

"Would Have to Be Invited," said Senator Bacon as he left the White House, "and there has been much discussion among Senators about the possibility of mediation, but we recognize that it all depends upon the attitude of the factions in Mexico. We would have to be invited to mediate; we could not exercise any authority. I don't know how practical it would be. Perhaps the best thing would be if both sides could get together without mediation by anyone else and name a provisional President, who would be satisfactory to both, and hold an election. But the chief point about all this discussion is that it shows how anxious the American people are for a peaceful solution of the trouble in Mexico and that we are not thinking of anything like intervention. The value of these suggestions is that we test out public opinion both in this country and in Mexico."

Senator Bacon said that so far as he knew no formal recommendation for mediation was being considered by the President and that the matter had only reached the stage of discussion.

A number of Senators, in discussing the Mexican situation with President Wilson today learned that he was hopeful that the Senate would refrain from debate about Mexico at this juncture, but at any rate until after Ambassador Wilson returned and a definite policy was formulated. It was said the President pointed out that expressions by Senators might arouse bad feeling in Mexico.

REBELS SAY THEY TOOK TORREON

Twenty Cannon, Much Ammunition and 1500 Prisoners Said to Have Been Captured.

EAGLE PAS, Tex., July 24.—Official announcement was made today at Congressional headquarters in Piedras Negras of the capture of Torreon, Mexico, by Constitutionalists. Fifteen hundred prisoners, 20 cannon and large supplies of ammunition fell into their hands, the Constitutionalists say.

Details of the battle must be carried nearly 100 miles by courier before they reach telegraph wires. Constitutionalists expect more news soon.

Torreon is in the State of Coahuila, 200 miles south of the border, and on the western edge of the military activities over which Gov. Carranza, leader of the Constitutionalists have taken personal charge. It is one of a chain of six cities covering a rough semi-circle 300 or 400 miles long, extending eastward from Torreon and curving northward to Laredo, Tex., in which Gov. Carranza claims to have strong Federal forces either checked or bottled up.

His announced plan last week was to attack Torreon first, his followers saying he had about 8000 men against about 3000 Federals in the Torreon garrison. The other principal cities which the Carranza forces say they are watching are Monclova, Lampasas, Monterey, Saltillo and Nuevo Laredo. Monclova already is under active siege by Constitutionalists.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO ALARMED

Colony Holds Meeting, but Cool-Headed One Says There Is No Cause for Fear.

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Panic among Americans and fear for personal safety, due to an expected report of relations between the United States and Mexico, reached such a stage today that the American colony deemed it wise to hold a meeting to ascertain what basis there is for apprehension.

Several cool-headed Americans tried to find persons to whom are attributed positive statements that early next week a declaration would be made in Washington which would make it necessary for all Americans to quit Mexico precipitately.

Gen. Agramonte, president of the American colony, rebuked the alarmists. The committee agreed there was nothing at present to cause undue alarm. The scare seems to have been based solely on generalities, especially the abrupt summoning of Ambassador Wilson to Washington.

There is a persistent attempt to arouse anti-American sentiment, and there are strong surface indications that an understanding exists between Japan and Mexico. All newspapers today print fulsome editorials and news articles on the arrival of the Japanese minister and his expressed sympathy for Mexico.

Rebels Said to Have Defeated Federal Column in Sinaloa

CHICAGO, July 24.—Secretary of State Bryan spent 20 minutes in Chicago today en route from Iowa to Washington, O.

"I am hurrying back to Washington to confer with Ambassador Wilson tomorrow in regard to Mexican affairs," said Secretary Bryan.

William Carney, for 15 years a traveling salesman for the St. Louis branch of the John Deere Plow Co., arrived in St. Louis Thursday with his wife, and told of his escape from Mexican bandits after his home in Mexico City had been riddled with cannon and rifle balls and he had been beset and robbed at every hand by bands of wandering and leaderless marauders.

"You will hear it everywhere in Mexico," Carney said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Maryland Hotel, "that Mexicans can whip the United States. 'Take Texas out,' they will tell you, 'and we can whip Uncle Sam before breakfast.'"

"They seem, however, to have a wholesome fear of Texas."

"I was away from Mexico City on a business trip during the battle between the Madero and Huerta forces. When I returned I found my home in ruins. I returned to Mexico City after my wife got word to me through my firm that she was in danger, and started in April to escape from the country. I could make no headway on trains."

"Every few hours the train was held up by roving bands who demanded money from the passengers. At length I obtained an automobile and made a 75-mile drive from Hermosillo to Guaymas. In Sonora, and there took a boat to Mazatlan in Sinaloa. At Mazatlan I boarded a ship for San Francisco. I have been more than three months on my way to St. Louis, and I consider myself lucky to have escaped at all."

"At Mazatlan I found several hundred Americans who had been robbed of everything they had. Bands of robbers are moving from place to place throughout the entire country."

KNOCKOUT DROPS KILL RICHEST SAILOR IN NAVY

Owner of Quarter Million Preferred the Bluejacket Life—Met Death in Saloon.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—It developed today that William Martin of the battleship Connecticut, who was killed in a tenderloin saloon here Wednesday with "knockout" drops, probably was the wealthiest bluejacket in the American navy. Martin came from Anderson, S. C., and last March received from the estate of his mother $250,000.

The proof of his identity was disclosed by papers in his possession, which showed he was the owner of much real estate, as well as of stocks and bonds. His wealth was known to some of the sailors of his own ship.

He was but 34, and despite the appeals of his family he insisted, even after he had attained his fortune, he would serve out his enlistment. He intimated he might enlist again. Pressure was brought to bear on Washington to have him rejected, but officials informed his relatives they were powerless.

"Martin simply loved the life in the navy," said one of his superiors. "He would rather have fought under the American flag than possess all the wealth in the world."

AUTHOR OF PARCEL POST FAVORS BURLESON PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Supporting Postmaster-General Burleson in his proposed extension of parcel post service, Representative Lewis, one of the authors of the parcel post law, today declared that sooner or later the Government must take over transportation of all parcels up to 100 pounds.

Representative Lewis contended that under the law the Postmaster-General has complete authority to increase the weight limit on parcel post business, and he assailed the railroads for their support of the express companies in opposing Postmaster-General Burleson's order.

NEGRO TALKS IN TRANCE

Family Finds Houseman Saying Incantations in Basement.

The family of R. W. Morris, 553 Maple avenue, was attracted to the basement of their home Thursday about 7 a. m. by mysterious noises.

Investigation revealed that their negro houseman, who was employed two weeks ago, was wandering around muttering strange incantations.

When spoken to he did not answer, and because of his peculiar actions he was taken to the City Hospital.

ed a column of Federals at Bamoa, according to reports just received here. The Federal loss was given as 30 killed, and a large number of horses and much ammunition are said to have been captured. Bamoa is on the Southern Pacific of Mexico 20 miles south of San Blas.

England Keeps Eye on Mexico, With View of Sending Warship.

LONDON, July 24.—Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, is keeping in communication with the British admiralty in case the presence of a British warship in Mexican waters should be considered advisable. Thus far, however, the British Minister in Mexico City has not reported British subjects in danger. It was pointed out by the Foreign Office today that the British in Mexico, in common with other foreigners, have suffered from the continued disturbances.

MEN RISK LIVES TO SAVE DOG AT NIAGARA FALLS

Two Park Constables Rescue Animal Clinging to Rock Above Cataract.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 24.—Two men risked going over the American falls that they might save a small dog which was clinging to some rocks only a short distance above the cataract last evening.

The animal had been running along the river bank and slipped into the water about 100 feet above the falls. It was quickly swept down the river, but finally managed to get a slight foothold and cling for its life.

Park Constables Alexander and Glassbrook went to the rescue. Glassbrook grasped Alexander's hand and waded out into the swift current. He reached the dog and brought it safely to shore. A woman who saw the rescue asked for the dog as a souvenir and it was given to her.

SHERIFF IN HANDS OF STRIKING MINERS IN COPPER REGION

Mob of 500 Reported to Have Captured Official, Who Asked Governor for Troops.

LANSING, Mich., July 24.—The Governor's office this afternoon received a message from the sheriff at Calumet, stating that he was in the hands of a mob of 500 men, and that another mob of 600 was on the way to Calumet from Ahmeek, a small mining town near Calumet.

Sheriff Asks for Troops to Quell Strike Here.

CALUMET, Mich., July 24.—Strike violence, occasioned by yesterday's walk-out of copper miners in this district, grew beyond control of Sheriff Crane today and he wired Gov. Ferris, asking that State troops be dispatched. Local militia companies were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for service, pending word from the Governor, who it is understood, is on his way to Alpena.

The chief attack of strikers today was directed against the Calumet and Hecla properties. Shortly before noon 300 men, armed with steel drills, clubs and stones, a few firing revolvers, directed their stars all deputies stationed at No. 2 Conglomerate Shaft of the company.

The strikers also visited all surface plants of the companies affected and closed them.

George Danblom, aged 30, was so badly beaten that he may die. George Unsworth, chief engineer at the Superior Mine House, was out about the throat while defending his holding plant.

August Beck, chief of the Calumet and Hecla police, was beaten last night, but recovered and is in charge of protective measures.

7. Kenneth McLeod, engineer at the Red Jacket shaft, suffered a broken nose from a thrown stone. At noon the disturbances had ceased temporarily.

Governor Will Send Troops Only as a Last Resort to Protect Lives.

BAY CITY, Mich., July 24.—Gov. Ferris, on his way to Alpena, but delayed here by a train wreck, said today he would not grant Sheriff Crane's request for troops in the copper mine strike district except as a last resort to protect lives. He said he believed the Sheriff's message was "anticipatory."

Before leaving here Gov. Ferris telegraphed to Sheriff Crane instructing him to see that the liquor laws are obeyed to the letter throughout the strike zone.

SON'S FORGETFULNESS SAVES MOTHER'S LIFE

Returns to Get Telephone Number and Finds Mother Had Taken Acid by Mistake.

The forgetfulness of Michael Aich, 17 years old, of 406 Cook avenue, enabled him to save the life of his mother, Mrs. Cecelia Aich, Wednesday afternoon. He went to a store to call up a butcher, but forgot the telephone number. He went back home to ask his mother the number and found her unconscious in the bathroom.

A glass which had contained carbolic acid lay by Mrs. Aich's side. The youth administered eggs and milk as an antidote and telephoned to a drug store for a doctor. Four physicians soon arrived, but the woman was out of danger when they got there.

MERCURY-POISONED MAN HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER

Fischer's Organs, Which Had Been Paralyzed, Slowly Resuming Normal Functions.

Continued improvement in the condition of Edward B. Fischer of 614A Suburban avenue, who has been at the city hospital nine days suffering from mercurial poisoning, brought forth an announcement from his physicians Thursday that he has a chance to recover unless a sudden change for the worse develops between now and Monday.

Organs which had been paralyzed by the drug slowly are resuming their normal functions, the doctors say. There has been continuous improvement for three days. He is being treated by injections of a saline solution to build up the blood corpuscles.

The physicians would not go so far as to say all danger is past. They recalled a previous case in which at the end of the ninth day a sudden change for the worse developed and the patient died on the tenth. The improvement in that case, however, was not so marked as it is in Fischer's.

POLICE SHOOT AT THIEVES

Attracted to Holdup Scene by Cries of Negro.

Two patrolmen of the Laclede Avenue Station aroused the neighborhood of Jefferson avenue to Beaumont street, along Olive street, about midnight Wednesday, by firing at two men who tried to hold up John Robinson, 29 years old, a negro, living at 208 Pine street.

Robinson says the men tried to rob him near Beaumont and Olive streets. His cries attracted the officers. The robbers escaped.

Many automobiles that may be secured under most advantageous conditions are on the market now through Post-Dispatch wants.

NEW RECTOR FOR ST. LOUIS

The Rev. Edwin S. Hinks of Warren, Va., has accepted the call of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension in St. Louis, and will take charge of his duties Sept. 1, succeeding the Rev. A. R. V. Binnington, who resigned several months ago. He has been for the last five years pastor of St. James Church in Warren.

Mrs. Hinks has a wife and one child. Dr. Hinks is a sister of R. E. and W. F. Funsten of St. Louis, and is a cousin of Bishop Funsten of Idaho.

BREAKS CLASSROOM DOOR

NORMAN, Ok., July 24.—Declaring that drastic methods were necessary to maintain her rights as a free American citizen, Mrs. N. W. Pearl, locked out of a class at the State University for tardiness, went to her room, procured a hatchet, returned and smashed the glass from the door of the classroom.

It is the custom of Prof. J. H. Voss to lock his door on tardy students. The attack of Mrs. Pearl threw the classroom into excitement, and three girl students fainted. The student suspended Mrs. Pearl from the university, but Mrs. Pearl declares she will refuse to recognize the action and expects to return to school as usual. Mrs. Pearl is the only woman enrolled in the law school of the university.

MISSOURI LAW FOR COMMISSION INVALID

Statute Affecting Cities of Third Class Held Unconstitutional in Clay County.

LIBERTY, Mo., July 24.—The Missouri law providing for the establishment of a commission form of government for cities of the third class is unconstitutional, according to a decision of Judge Frank P. Divillias in the Circuit Court here. The point on which the law was declared unconstitutional was that there was a discrepancy between the wording of the title and the body of the measure. The decision was given in a case brought by the citizens of Excelsior Springs, demanding that the Mayor call an election to adopt commission government there.

The decision affects about 23 third-class cities which were preparing to adopt commission government. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court. The decision does not affect the law providing for commission government for cities of the second class.

THIRTEEN BITTEN BY DOGS WEDNESDAY;
EIGHT ARE CHILDREN

Total for First Four Days of the Present Week Raised to 56 Persons.

MAN, 65, IS ATTACKED

Girl Bitten While Giving Her Pet Medicine—Unlicensed Dog Bites Child.

The addition Thursday of 13 names of dog-bitten persons increased the police record to 56 for the first four days of this week.

William Morgan Jr., 8 years old, 7217 South Broadway, playing on the third floor of his home, was bitten on the left arm by a dog owned by Mrs. Minnie Joseph of the same address. The boy's aunt, Mrs. Mary Hazard of De Soto, took the boy to her home for a month's stay immediately after the attack. She was instructed over the telephone by the boy's father to have the wound attended by De Soto physicians.

Katie Hoerner, 12 years old, 6308 Tennessee avenue, was bitten on the left hand by a dog belonging to Ferdinand Van Ark, 6306 Louisiana avenue.

An unlicensed, unnamed dog belonging to William Kelly of 2106 Rolla place is said by the police to have bitten John Grimes, 6 years old, 2107 Rolla place, on the right knee.

Edward Collier, 6 years old, 4238 North Broadway, was bitten on the left thigh by a dog belonging to Frank Nagle of 4224 North Broadway.

While giving her dog medicine, Martha Hoffman, 16 years old, 4340 Warne avenue, was bitten on the right hand.

TRAFFIC IN BOSTON

Animal Stares at City Hall as Thousands Try in Vain to Make Her Move.

BOSTON, July 24.—A cow balked in front of the City Hall yesterday and the machinery of government as well as street traffic stood still while several thousand citizens offered advice as to how to make the animal move when the perspiring driver failed.

Police reserves hurried out to break the jam of people, tried in vain to move the cow. A man who said he was "from the country," tried cajolery, then he, too, yanked at the rope. A well-dressed woman objected to this "cruelty." A young man laughed at her objections, the woman called on a policeman to have him arrested and the young man asked the woman's arrest, because her hat pins were too long.

Meanwhile City Hall employees abandoned business and returned the stare of cow. Mayor Fitzgerald appeared at a window and suggested, "Make her think you want her to stay, and then she'll move." It failed. Finally an electric ambulance was called and the cow, still staring vacantly, was hoisted aboard bodily and forwarded to her destination.

"GERMANS" RAID COAST;
LAND TROOPS IN ENGLAND

"Enemy" Occupies Towns After Maneuver Battle in British Waters.

LONDON, July 24.—"Germans," represented by the "Red Fleet" in the annual maneuvers of the British Navy, in progress in British waters, raided the east coast of Great Britain this morning and landed troops in the neighborhood of the Humber.

After the warships, escorting the convoy, had engaged and defeated the defending fleet, four transport laden with soldiers ran the blockade and upset the cherished belief of the British Admiralty that the British Isles were invulnerable. Vice-Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe commanded the fleet representing the enemy. The towns of Grimsby, Cleethorpes and Immingham were occupied by the enemy, who routed the territorial forces.

NEGRO ROBS A WOMAN
AS SHE RETURNS HOME

Grabs Her as She Enters Yard, Knocks Her Down and Takes Purse With 90 Cents.

Mrs. Margaret Rodgers, a widow, 39 years old, of 2554 Adams street, was choked and beaten by a negro who attacked her in her yard at 10 p. m. Wednesday. The negro escaped after taking her purse containing 90 cents and two door keys.

Mrs. Rodgers had been visiting her sister-in-law. She told the police she walked through the alley to the rear of her home on her return and had entered the yard when a negro suddenly leaped at her. He caught her by the throat, stifling her efforts to cry for aid and knocked her down.

The negro tore her purse from her hand and got down the alley.

URGES STATES TO PROFIT BY CONGRESS ROAD FUNDS

Secretary of Old Trails Association Writes Into Four Central Western States.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 24.—J. M. Lowe, vice-president of the National Old Trails Highway Association, today mailed letters to presiding judges of 41 counties in Missouri, Kansas, Indiana and Illinois, urging that the counties take advantage of the Federal Good Roads appropriations for the construction of macadamized cross-state roads.

Almost a thousand miles of roads can be macadamized at once if these counties will do their share of the road work, Mr. Lowe said.

"The last Congress appropriated $500,000 for distribution to different states for road building," he added, "and any state or county that will spend $2 for each one appropriated Congress is eligible to share in it."

MRS. YOUNG TO RESIGN

Reported That Head of Chicago Schools, 68, Will Quit.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Three members of the Chicago Public School Board stated today that Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, Superintendent of Chicago Schools and one of the most prominent women educators of the country, had indicated her intention of resigning. Mrs. Young said: "I will not state what may come out at the next board meeting."

Mrs. Young, who is in her sixty-eighth year, had devoted her life to educational work. She is the author of numerous works on education and has been at the head of several national organizations. In 1910-11 she was president of the National Educational Association. As superintendent of Chicago schools her salary is $10,000 a year.

PISTOL AGAIN SCARES HOUSE OF COMMONS

Toy Weapon Exploded When Home Secretary Is Speaking on Mrs. Pankhurst.

LONDON, July 24.—There was another brief scare in the House of Commons last night, when a blank cartridge was exploded. The Right Honorable Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary, was replying to James Kier Hardie's question about the rearrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, when a shot was fired from the strangers' gallery. The culprit, a man named Washington, and a member of a Socialist club at Leeds, was seized and ejected from the building. There was relief when the pistol was found to be a harmless toy affair.

July 21 a man fired a toy pistol in the House and caused a panic, and since then a careful watch for such disturbers has been kept.

FAVORS PUTTING A FEW STANDARD OIL MEN IN JAIL

Attorney William H. Gray Says That Recent Dissolution Order Failed to Dissolve.

FOR SEPARATE OWNERSHIP

Companies Are Not Competitors When Owned by Same Persons, He Declares.

William H. Gray of Houston, Tex., the attorney whose book, "The Rule of Reason," charged the Standard Oil Co. with violation of the dissolution decree and made him a prominent figure in subsequent prosecutions of the trust, is in St. Louis today.

He was asked how in his opinion the Federal Government could effectively dissolve the Oil Trust, break the oil monopoly and restore competitive conditions in that trade throughout the United States.

"So long as the Federal Government permits common ownership of the several companies composing the Standard Oil group it will not be able to force them to compete with each other," Gray said.

"He would send 'em to jail. Three steps should be taken. The Government should bring Standard Oil's leaders into the Federal court here in St. Louis and punish them for contempt of the dissolution decree by sending them to prison and appointing receivers for their properties. That is the only step which will ever make them understand that they are not above the law."

"The Government should bring new suits against the Oil Trust for new violations of the Sherman act, committed in Pennsylvania, California, Texas and other states since the dissolution decree was entered."

"The Government should end common ownership of the Oil Trust's companies by allotting ownership of one company to one group of the Standard stockholders, another to another group, and so on, until no stockholder had a dollar's worth of interest in more than one of the companies. These men should then be restrained from acquiring ownership in any competing company."

"If this were done, the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey would want a part of the profitable trade of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and would go over into New Jersey after it—which it never has done. The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana would want a part of the profitable trade of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and would go over into Indiana after it. And so on down the line. There would be real competition between companies, none of which would be strong enough to overawe and dominate all the others, as the Standard Oil group of companies, all of them controlled from 26 Broadway, does today in defiance of the United States Government."

"Prices to consumers would go down; the trade would become a safe one for honest business men to enter; the reign of trust terrorism would end. A new field of opportunity for enterprising men with moderate capital would be opened and the dragon within that field would be slain."

Prosecution Has Broken Down.
"The Government's prosecution of the Oil Trust has broken down; has resulted in a fiasco. But I do not believe President Wilson will be content to leave it rest there. I believe that just as quickly as he has put through the tariff and currency bills he will take up a vigorous enforcement of the Sherman act against those trusts which, have been nominally dissolved, but which are actually as strong and meretricious as they ever were."

"Indeed, this action may come earlier than I anticipate. The Department of Justice is conducting an investigation now, and it may prove the Post-Dispatch called the turn on future events when it predicted Standard Oil offenders would be haled into the Federal Court for contempt at an early day."

Independents Displeased With Settlement of Case.
HOUSTON, Tex., July 23.—The independent oil companies are not satisfied with the settlement of the receivership suit against the Magnolia Petroleum Co., the Standard Oil Trust's Texas subsidiary, on terms so favorable to the trust. They say they have finally reached the conclusion that there is no lasting safety for independent competitors of the trust under State anti-trust laws. Nothing short of a vigorous application of the Federal anti-trust law, they say, will open the way for genuine competition in the production and marketing of oils in the United States.

And they are finally convinced, they declare, that nothing short of the imprisonment of one or more of the Standard Oil captains, and the appointment of receivers for Standard Oil properties, to operate them lawfully, will convince the Oil Trust magnates that the anti-trust laws were ever meant to apply to them.

Thus far, they say, the Oil Trust leaders have been able to settle with the laws of states and nation by paying what to them were merely nominal fines. Encouraged by the apparent immunity from any real punishment, they have continued flagrantly to violate the dissolution decrees of the United States courts, and are still violating it, as was revealed in the settlement of this latest Texas case.

For example, the independents say, the 11 marketing companies of the Standard Oil Trust, alleged by the trust to be "independent" and "competitive" since the "dissolution" of the trust under Wickham's friendly supervision late last year, still carefully abstain from selling any oils in each other's territory as defined by the trust agreement of 1902.

Today and every day Post-Dispatch wants are full of chances for getting work, making investments or acquiring a competence through opportunity tips.

FARM FOR SANITARIUM

Hospital Board Plans to Submit Proposition to Voters.

The purchase of a 500-acre farm for inmates of the sanitarium on which vegetables used in all city institutions could be raised, is planned by the Hospital Board. The Municipal Assembly will be asked to submit at the free bridge bond election the proposition of leasing bonds amounting to $250,000 for this purpose, according to present plans. The procedure was outlined Wednesday at the meeting of the board. A report by Hospital Commissioner Shutt showed that similar farms in other large cities had proved successful. The St. Louis Sanitarium controls 12 acres of land, which is not considered enough to provide work and recreation for inmates. Dr. Shutt's figures showed the average farm in other cities is 400 acres.

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE

TRY THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY.

It always gives me pleasure to recommend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. For years I was troubled with kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness. So now let me thank you for your wonderful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly,
WALTER SHIVER,
Hope, Ark.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th day of March, 1912.

MAN IS SHOT AS HE TRIES TO BEAT OFF HIGHWAYMAN

East St. Louisan Strikes Robber Who Springs From Weeds and Holds Pistol Against Him.

C. E. Bayes of 1115 North Ninth street, East St. Louis, was shot and seriously wounded Wednesday night when he tried to beat off a highwayman who was holding a pistol's muzzle against his abdomen. The bullet ranged below vital organs and doctors say Bayes probably will get well.

The attempted robbery took place on a residence street, with eight or nine persons visible within hall. The first intimation others had that something was wrong was when they heard a shot and saw the two robbers running away.

Bayes, a carpenter, was crossing the street toward a vacant lot at Eighth street and Exchange avenue, two blocks from his home, at 8:30 p. m., when two men, one wearing a mask, sprang up from the weeds and ordered him to hold up his hands.

Because he knew virtually everybody in the neighborhood, Bayes thought it was a joke.

The men pointed their fingers at him, as he thought, to make him think they had revolvers. He laughingly told them to go as far as they liked.

When one of them got close and

THREE LITTLE GIRLS WHO GAVE CARNIVAL FOR PURE MILK FUND

shoved the muzzle of a revolver against his body, Bayes realized his mistake. With his left hand he grabbed the wrist that held the pistol and with his right struck the bandit in the face. The blow was not heavy enough to daze the highwayman, who stepped back a pace and pulled the trigger. Bayes fell and the two ran toward railroad yards and got away. Before they started Bayes heard one of them call the other "Rich."

Neighbors ran to the wounded man's assistance. After emergency treatment he was taken home. His physician, Dr. R. S. Stanton, said Thursday the chances are for a speedy recovery.

Dramatic skits by children at home of George and Roscoe Zemelman, 5207 Garfield avenue	10.41

Emma and Julia Tobias of 4718 Page boulevard and Ray and Gertrude Cohen of 1230 Walton avenue, gave a carnival on the lawn of the Tobias home and earned $8.10 for the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Ice Fund to save the tenement babies.

There was a good assemblage of neighbors, the four little girls sold refreshments and a pleasing success was scored. They wish now to return thanks for donations from the Grafman Dairy, the Harris Dairy, the Cohen Grocery Co., the Heidland Bakery and the King's Highway Bakery.

The Little Helpers, an organization of bright and good-hearted girls, gave an entertainment and play at the Jewish Educational Alliance, 901 Carr street, for the benefit of the Pure Milk and Ice Fund, and realized $23 with which to save the tenement babies.

All expenses of the entertainment were paid by the Little Helpers themselves, who also added 5 cents to the gross receipts of $23.95 in order to make the total up even $25.

The program was: Piano solo, Fannie Leibert; recitation, Esther Margolis; vocal solo, Gussie and Katie Feldman; recitation, Gertrude Kantor; piano solo, Fannie Leibert, and a little play entitled "The War of the Roses," the cast being: Camella, Queen of the Flowers, Esther Margolis; Ruba, Emblem of Love, Thille Banet; Emblem of Emblem of Jealousy, Gussie Feldman; Columbine, Emblem of Folly, Katie Feldman; Amariya, Emblem of Pride, Sarah Roth; Popiva, Emblem of Sleep, Della Goldberg; Viola, Emblem of Modesty, Rosa Finkler; Emblem of Purity, Sarah Banet, and Gentille, the Wanderer, Gertrude Kantor.

The clever company did excellent work and the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyable. The Little Helpers who looked very martial in their uniforms and served with great dignity as doorknobs and ushers.

An entertaining dramatic sketch entitled "Deaf as a Post" was presented by a juvenile company of five players at 5207 Garfield avenue for the benefit of the Pure Milk Fund, earning $10.41 for the babies.

Those taking part were Marguerite Robinson, 5306 Garfield; Esther and George Coulson, 5209 Garfield, and Fred and Roscoe Zemelman, 5207 Garfield. They wish to return thanks to their neighbors for generous attendance and to the following neighborhood firms who donated supplies: Edward J. Wynne Grocery Co.; F. Hartmann, bakery; Dunderberg Grocery Co.; Blish Dry Goods store; Brockmeyer Dry Goods Co.; Hubach's drug store and the Honneff meat and vegetable market.

Again do the Four Girls of Dupuy, Ill., come to the front with good work for the tenement babies. They conducted a lemonade stand this time and earned $2, which they send to the fund with the announcement that their motto is "Save the babies!" These four helpful girls are Margaret Mann, Ruby Perrin, Lilly Rouge and Rosalie Purcell.

Velma Ruth Fuller of 3408 A St. Vincent avenue and Marie Catherine Sutton of 1236 South Theresa avenue conducted a lemonade stand for two days and earned $2.17 with which to help the Pure Milk Fund save the babies.

Marie Weissborn of 2908 Arkansas avenue; Nelda Wolteck, 3461 Sidney, and Annabel Gutfreund, 3519 Sidney, sold lemonade and flowers at the corner of Arkansas avenue and Sidney street and earned $2.25 for the tenement babies.

Dolores and Arline Blomberg of 4058 Fountain avenue, and Winton E. Barber, 4064 Fountain, sold souvenirs at the Blomberg residence and earned $3.45 for the Pure Milk Fund.

All these helpful children now are members of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Ice Fund League and possessors of league membership cards.

The children of St. Louis are working splendidly to rescue the little ones of the poor, and the league membership is increasing rapidly.

The slogan of these helping children is the league slogan: "Save the babies!"

As to Bear Stories, Can You Beat That Offer of Eleven Cubs for Three Cards?

MR. SHORT SPORT: There's nothing to that dope, "enough for one is plenty for two" By Jean Knott

HAMILTON NEEDS THREE GAMES TO GAIN 1913 BONUS

Browns' Management Offered Him Extra Money if He Won 15 Games.

SYSTEM IS POOR ONE Extra Money Offerings Usually Upset Steady Performance of Player.

By Clarence F. Lloyd

Earl Hamilton, the clever young southpaw, needs but three more victories to earn a bonus which has been promised to him if he wins 15 games for the Browns this season. He met a slight setback in his pitching aspirations Wednesday when the Athletics spanked him after he had won his last six consecutive games.

As Hamilton's victories already total 12, his chances of collecting the extra money are good. Between now and October he should have no trouble in bagging three more games, provided he continues pitching in the same form he showed while collecting his six successive victories.

This spring Hamilton was one of the holdouts on Col. Hedges' club. The salary offered and the salary demanded kept magnate and player apart for awhile. Finally it was agreed that if Hamilton would win 15 games for the Browns he should receive a bonus.

Season System not a Good One. It's all right to reward ball players for good work, but in several cases the bonus system has been voted unsatisfactory. This is especially the case with pitchers who may hurl good baseball but still be losers because of poor support.

Several years ago George Mullin, then with the Detroit club, was promised a bonus if he won 20 games. He was victorious in 19 games. Then each time he went after his twentieth contest he was so nervous or worried lest he should not win his last game that he lost something like six or seven games between the nineteenth and twentieth victory.

Bob Harmon also had a bonus clause in his contract one season while working for Roger Bresnahan. It did Harmon no good. He was to receive an increase over what his contract called for if he won a certain number of games. He won a first game of the season. Then he lost about seven successive games, not through his fault, but because he was backed by an inferior team which invariably booed away his games.

The result was that with each defeat Harmon saw his extra money slipping away. It's only natural that a pitcher will hold himself back if with a tail end team his mates constantly kick away his games.

Hamilton was Worried. For a while this season, Hamilton was worried lest he would not be able to win his bonus money. This was after he had pitched several good games, but lost them chiefly through poor fielding support or batting strength.

"Before I win the six games in a row, the 15 I am supposed to win looked mighty far away," said Hamilton to the Post-Dispatch. "But I suddenly got to going good and I am not worried now any more, although I was a bit afraid that I wouldn't be able to win 15 games. Now I only need three more games. That doesn't mean that I'll let up after I win them, either. I'd like to win 20 or 25 if possible. The more the merrier."

Hamilton has already passed his 1912 record. A year ago he won 11 games and lost 14. To date this season his record is 12 victories and 5 defeats. Bresnahan made the same record as Hamilton, a year ago.

Browns Should do Better. The Browns hit the road for the East yesterday night to be away until Aug. 14. During that time they will play the Nationals, Athletics, Red Sox and Yankees. The trip is almost certain to be more successful than the last one, when the Browns won only three games in the four Eastern cities. The Red Sox won the four games played with the Grand Avenue team, while the Athletics and Nationals each won a contest to St. Louis.

WRAY'S COLUMN

How About It, Oh, Upright Judge?

If you think the present baseball system is just and equitable, President Byron Bancroft Johnson, as per your article in a current periodical, get your integral calculus out from the rubbish room and reconcile the following inequalities:

(1) Roger Bresnahan, who works in about one game in 10, gets $10,000 per annum, while Walter Johnson, the whole Washington team, receives but $7000 yearly.

(2) The entire $100,000 infield of the Philadelphia Athletics cost less than $100, while Sailor Flanagan, an untitled Class X product, cost $3500—canceled check on display at downtown office.

(3) Pitcher Hageman, suspended indefinitely without pay, can't work for any other club, and can't draw $1400 back salary due him without appealing to law. Hena Zimmerman drew down a bonus for being suspended.

(4) Jim Delahanty, who took up Ty Cobb's cause and led the Detroit Tigers on a strike last year, was railroaded out of the League. Ty Cobb, who caused it, was reinstated and his fine paid by his club.

(5) Tim Lincecum was banded out of major League baseball for spitting on Eddie Collins; for a similar offense George Stovall was fined $100.

(6) Umpire Cusack was fired out of major League baseball for not seeing a play; other umpires commit the same crime daily—if you believe the rosters.

(7) Pittsburgh drew Artie Hoffman and King Cole for Tommy Leach and Lefield, while Frank Chance was shipped Zelder and Borton for Prince Hal Chase; in everyday life they jail you for peddling goldbricks.

There are many other instances, Bah, but we can't spare the time to put them down. We'll serve them up in installments, so you can see just how ideally conducted for all hands (but the player and public) the present system really is.

A Matter of Pronunciation.

JUDGING from the noise emanating from the meeting places of oarsmen, we are inclined to think the correct pronunciation of the word rowing is with the short O, as in fowl.

Out for the Dough.

TY COBB is just an ordinary, common cly mortal, like all of us. We arrive at this conclusion from the following news headline: "Ty Cobb Eager to Change."

Redskin Bender Puts an End to Earl Hamilton's Winning Streak

CHIEF BENDER, the battle-scarred veteran of the Athletics, outpitched Earl Hamilton, the youthful southpaw, in Wednesday's matinee at Sportsman's Park. As a result the Mackmen defeated the Browns, 3-1, in the getaway contest.

Bender was hit hard, but got the breaks. Hamilton was also well thumped and wasn't as fortunate as the rookie. For six innings at least the Browns should have led the way 1-0. But Jack Sheridan, who was unimpaired when Broadway was a flag stick, called Walsh safe at first in the third inning.

It should have been the third instead of the fourth, with no runs scored. Instead it gave the Mackmen the life which paved the way for three markers. Had Sheridan made the proper ruling on this play there is no telling how the game would have turned out, as the Browns scored a run in the fifth.

According to Bunny Brief, who played first, Austin's throw on Walsh's grounder beat the runner to first by a step. It wasn't close, according to the broad-shouldered youth.

One of the strange features of the matinee was that Gus Williams made two errors and didn't come through with a long hit. Maybe Gus only hits when he makes an error.

Old Dan Murphy, playing right-field because a left-hander was on duty, was in the game up to his neck. He ceased a pass, hit a single and a double off Hamilton.

B. Brief had a perfect day against Bender.

HUGGINS AT LAST IS LUCKY; MOORE WILL NOT REPORT

Philadelphia Club Returns; the $3000 Paid for Big Pitcher's Transfer.

CARDINALS GAME IS OFF

NEW YORK, July 24.—Rain which fell throughout the morning caused the management of the Brooklyn Baseball Club to announce the calling-off of the scheduled game with the Cardinals today. This was to have been the final contest of the Cardinals in the East. The team departed for the West on an early train this evening.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Larry McLean, the Cards' standby for left-handed pitching, is laid up with a broken finger. He had hit hurt in Boston and it was not properly treated. It had to be reset yesterday and he will be out of the game for some little time.

The purchase of Earl Moore from Philadelphia has fallen through. That mysterious condition attached to his sale to St. Louis proved to be insurmountable, and Moore has been released back to Philadelphia and the $2000 paid for him has been released back to the St. Louis Club.

The Cards will be glad to get away from Brooklyn. The new playing field is the hardest on a pitcher. It was especially noticeable in the preliminary practice yesterday that not a single ground ball was fielded cleanly by the St. Louis team.

Bad Field Spots Play. This presented a similar exhibition of fumbles in the playing of the game, which Brooklyn had no trouble winning by a score of 7 to 2.

Time and again on safe hits to the outfield which should have been fielded in 30 times in a hundred, the outfielders would make something of a mess of things. As a rule it was only a case of a ball bounding a few feet away, just enough to let the runner get the extra base on a single.

The most serious was Oakes' fumble of Yingling's hit in the seventh. It was a solid single, but as it came to Oakes it failed to bound true, hit the edge of his mitt and rolled almost to the fence before it was fielded. Back Yingling was on third. The ground around short field also seems to be bad, judging from the number of bobbles made there.

Two days' game, Huggins' drive twice between Fisher's legs. In neither case did his hands even tip the ball, though he was set solid for the stop. Again yesterday, Whitted was charged with an error on Yingling's bouncer, which went a little to one side just as it came to him and failed to land true in his hands.

Lavan Starts Hitting After Many Predicted He'd Soon Be Benched

Dr. John Lavan, shortstop of the Browns, may carry longer than some expected. Lavan has hit the place so far as fielding goes, but his hitting had been none too hard or timely. The result was that some of the "bump" were crying for his scalp.

Dr. John, however, came forth as a hit-maker in fine style in the series with the Athletics, which teams of such famed hurlers as Ed Plank and Chief Bender. In the four games played against the Athletics, Dr. John hit .512. He piled five blows in 10 times at bat. One of these hits was a double, slugging off Plank.

Lavan is a clever fielder, despite some reports to the contrary. He has a good pair of hands and better when he's around. He has been better when he's around. He has been better when he's around. He has been better when he's around.

HEDGES AND RICKEY ON TRAIL OF NEW TALENT

President Hedges and Secretary Rickey of the Browns are supposed to be on a scouting trip. It is probable that Co. Hedges will not accompany his team on the road as he is supposed to be, believing that the Browns may better when he's around. He has been better when he's around. He has been better when he's around.

SPORT SALAD

ODE TO A MOSQUITO.

Nip, nip, nip. At my tender shins, oh, 'skeet. And the words that my tongue could utter I never would dare repeat.

And the pesky 'skeet bores in. With a beak like a diamond drill; But oh for the swat of a heavy hand That forever his voice will still.

"Gloomy" Gus, accompanied by Manager Stovall and the Browns, departed for Washington yesterday eve.

Talk about lucky breaks! The Cards get back their 3000 discs and the Phillies keep Earl Moore. Looks like first division!

Hal Chase made only four errors yesterday. How about filling a cross-bill against the Cardinals? Or you might make it a double-cross bill.

Also in addition: $15,000 Chappell made two errors. Can it be that another lemon has changed hands? Time alone will smother.

After all, it's the number of hazards that make for the interest in any line of sport. With Gloomy Gus in the field the hazards and consequently the interest is increased a hundredfold.

McNulty Files Suit for $35,000 Damages Against the Federal League Club

A petition for $35,000 damages against the Federal League baseball club of St. Louis and John J. O'Connor was filed in the Circuit Clerk's office Thursday by George P. Bureleigh, attorney for John S. McNulty, who alleges that O'Connor assaulted him during a game at Federal League Park June 28.

According to the petition, McNulty was present to officiate as umpire of the game when O'Connor wrongfully and unlawfully assaulted him, permanently injuring him by breaking the melior process bone on the right side of his face, inflicting such injury that it pains him to eat and causing paralysis of the nerves of three teeth, besides injuring his nose and right eye.

Otto F. Bureigh, E. A. Steinke and A. H. Bader besides O'Connor are named as the defendants.

BOEHLING BREAKS 1913 RECORD FOR SUCCESSIVE WINS

Washington Southpaw Makes 11 Eleven Straight by Defeating Chicago.

By W. J. O'Connor

Left-handed hurlers who have just a little control have learned that success easily is attained in the Major Leagues, this season.

Joe Boehling, the young Washington southpaw, wrote a new 1913 record into the Major League books Wednesday, when he chalked up his eleventh successive victory. The White Sox yielded to Boehling, 7-1, and this victory erased the marks of Cy Falkenberg and Walter Johnson, both of whom had achieved 10 consecutive conquests.

In the National League, Rube Marquard, another kithooge, increased his string of successive triumphs to eight by beating the Pirates, 2-0, the famed Frenchman yielding only two hits, both singles. As Marquard's next out will be against the Cardinals, a team that is atrociously weak against southpaws, Rube should have no trouble continuing his march to a new mark.

Banner Year for Southpaws. Further proof that left-handers are more effective than right-handers may be found in the fact that Earl Hamilton recently put together six straight wins for the Browns, while E. Gettysburg Plank flashed with a string of seven straight victories earlier in the season. Then it is interesting to note that of the six southpaws who worked Wednesday four of them won, to wit: Yingling, Boehling, Marquard and Tyler. Hamilton and Fackard, who apparently were the only southpaws to lose.

Brown out-foes are winning pennants in the minor leagues this season. Curley Brown is mainly responsible for the fact that the Montgomery club is pacing the field in the Southern League, while John Powell has won six straight games for Louisville and the Columbus are in second place, pretty close to Milwaukee, the leader.

Brooklyn has won eight and lost one game to the Cardinals so far this season. Incidentally Earl Yingling, a second rate southpaw, has beaten Hug's men three times. Although the Cards cast best the superlatives they find it comparatively easy to trim the leaders, having won five out of 11 games from the Giants. New York has taken eight out of 10 from the Pirates, this campaign.

Winning extra-inning games is the sore test for a ball club. So far this season the Giants have played 14 extra-round battles. Eight were won, three tied and three lost. The Cardinals lost seven of their 11 extra-inning games and tied two.

Hub Pardo's record of 12 victories in his last 14 trips to the hurling hill must rank Miller Huggins high on a list of his vital. Early in the season, Manager Stovall offered to trade Pardo, even up, for Mike Mowery. At that time, though, Mowery was going great guns, while Pardo had lost five out of six games. But now it's different.

The high-priced Mr. Chappell went hitless and made two errors besides. Matchless Hal Chase made four misuses, making it easy for Joe Boehling to hang up his season's record.

Louisville's pennant hopes got a severe jolt yesterday when Minneapolis took both ends of a double-header from the Colonels. Both were shutouts.

LOCAL FEDS ARE HOME WITH TWO NEW PERFORMERS

O'Connor Has Strengthened Team by Addition of Pitcher and Shortstop, He Says.

By defeating Chicago, 6-4 yesterday afternoon, the local Federal League team entrenched itself in third place by a margin of one game before returning to the local park, where O'Connor's men open today against the Pittsburgh tail-enders.

O'Connor has acquired two new players since leaving home. "Rabbit" Robinson, a shoemaker, and Cooper, a pitcher. The newcomers have strengthened the local side, O'Connor contends, and he's now ready to square away for the final dash northwest.

The local team is six full games behind Indianapolis, which is leading.

The new players added to the local payroll are former Central League performers and came this way after their old league closed up shop. Robinson has the speed to be lead-off man and that's where he's being in the new lineup order. Cooper probably will pitch the opening game against the Pirates.

Hoerr Is Eliminated by 18-Year Old Star; Drummond Jones Wins

OMAHA, Neb., July 24.—Drummond Jones is the hope of the St. Louis contingent in the national clay court tennis championships here, as he is the only Mound Cityan who survived the third round yesterday.

Hoerr, his teammate, was eliminated by Ralph Larmann, an 18-year-old star, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-3. Hoerr's defeat was a complete surprise, as he was feared a potent contender by reason of his recent victory in the Missouri Valley tournament at Kansas City.

Jones eliminated H. H. Koch of Omaha yesterday, 6-3 and 6-0. He must play Clarence Griffin, the California star, in the next round. Griffin is only 18 years old, but he is considered one of the strongest players in the tournament.

C. MACK HOPES COOMBS WILL COME TO RELIEF

Manager Cummie Mack of the Athletics says he has received no direct word recently from Jack Coombs, his right-handed pitcher, who has been out of the game since April. It was said the other day that Coombs expected to report by the first of September, but Mack says he has not heard from him since.

OUTING IS REFUSED AND WIFE RUNS AWAY

Woman, Who Takes Girl Baby and Leaves Boy Behind, Is Hunted, at Husband's Request.

Mrs. Mamie Vinton, 24 years old, left her boarding place, 2628 Gamble street, a week ago Wednesday, after telling other roomers there that she intended to part from her husband. She took her younger child, Gladys, two and one-half years old, and left John, 4 years old, in the care of another roomer for the day.

When the husband, Edward Vinton, a shoe worker, returned to the boarding place and learned of his wife's departure, he took the boy to the home of Mrs. Jennie Vinton, his mother, at 1033 North Compton avenue. He has asked the police to help him find the runaway wife and the baby girl.

Mrs. Lottie Stehlin, with whom Mrs. Vinton left the boy, said the wife complained that Vinton had not kept an appointment to take her and the children on an outing. She told Mrs. Stehlin she was going to friends in South St. Louis.

TELEPHONE GIRLS TELL DELEGATES OF BEING FIRED

Declare to Committee That They Lost Jobs Because They Joined the Union.

POLICE ARE ACCUSED

Rough Handling Described and
One Operator Says That She Was Kicked.

Striking girl operators of the Bell Telephone Co. appeared before a special investigating committee of the House of Delegates Wednesday afternoon and testified that employees had been discharged because they joined a union and that strike pickets had been roughly handled by policemen.

It was also asserted that the company had influenced policemen on strike duty by giving them meals at the various exchanges.

Mrs. Sarah Spraggon of the Women's Trades Union League, one of the organizers of the Telephone Operators' Union, said:

"Since the strike commenced I have been in the neighborhood of several of the exchanges. I have seen policemen coming from the exchange buildings wiping their mouths and picking their teeth. That was sufficient evidence for me that the company was feeding them."

Girl Says She Was Kicked.
Miss Sybil Hudson of 2138 St. Vincent avenue, testified that while she was acting as a strike picket in front of the Grand Exchange May 15, a policeman with a badge numbered 1894 pushed her off the sidewalk and kicked her.

Miss Grace Gleason, a striking operator, told the committee of her arrest by Police Sergeant N. M. Tuesday evening.

Miss Gleason said she had followed a working operator on a Hodiament car and tried to persuade her to join the strikers. The operator left the car at Tenth street and complained to the Sergeant that Miss Gleason was bothering her. Although the operator said she did not wish to make any formal charge against Miss Gleason, the Sergeant arrested Miss Gleason. Her trial is set for Aug. 6 at the Municipal Police Court.

Miss Hudson and other strikers said that policemen frequently had shoved girl pickets and used force in clearing sidewalks in front of the exchanges. Miss Lillian Miller, formerly president and now secretary-treasurer of the operators' union, testified that a policeman stationed at the Sidney exchange told her that the company was feeding the policemen on strike duty.

Questioned, Then Discharged.
Miss Marie Julian testified that she was employed for a year as operator in the Webster Groves exchange. When the union was formed, she said, a chief operator asked what the striking men employees paid her to join the union. She answered that they paid her nothing. She was then discharged.

Miss Nellie Carter told the committee she had worked for the company 10 years and was supervisor at the Tyler exchange. In the rest room one day she told some of the other girls she thought the union was a good thing. The next day, she said, the chief operator called and expressed surprise that she should have said this.

For a week, she said, she remained on duty but found that no work was given to her. When she used the telephone, she said, someone always listened in. At the end of the week she was discharged.

Miss Clara Dill of 2851 South Thirteenth street testified that she was notified of her discharge by a traffic official named Mason the morning after he had seen her come from a union meeting. He told her her work was not satisfactory. She reminded him that only a short time before he had commended her work, and he replied: "O, well. You know what you're fired for."

Strikers Among Those Fired.
Miss Lillian Cunningham said she and her sister, Margaret, were discharged after Margaret had been falsely accused of being a leader in the strike movement.

W. D. Smith, secretary of the Electrical Workers' Union, testified that on May 4, at the beginning of the movement to organize the girl operators, W. J. Hiss, manager of the company said: "We will nip this thing in the bud."

Hiss has maintained that operators were discharged for incompetency and not because of their connection with a union.

Maryland Hotel Seeks to Enjoin
Striking Waiters.
The Maryland Hotel Co. applied for an injunction in the Circuit Court Wednesday against members of the Waiters, Cooks and Barenders' union, to restrain them from picketing the restaurant of the defendant company. It is alleged that on account of labor troubles with the waiters, members of the various organizations have congregated at the Maryland Hotel and at McGee's restaurant, which is conducted by James McGee, president of the Maryland Hotel Co., and tried to keep out customers and have been intimidating persons who would go into the places.

Walter H. Saunders, attorney for the hotel company, presented the petition to Judge Rassieur in chambers and demanded the issuance of a temporary restraining order at once. The attorney exhibited to the court minutes which he said had been thrown into McGee's restaurant by strikers and also said that a bottle of iodine had been thrown at the entrance of one of the places Tuesday night.

Judge Rassieur refused to grant a temporary order, declaring he did not wish to take such action without hearing testimony. He set the case for hearing Friday.

WOMEN'S RAIL PARTY TO ANSWER TO GRAND JURY

Cripple's Wife, Driven From
Volo, Ill., Will Be Called Back to Testify.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 24.—The eight women of Volo, near here, who rode Mrs. John Richardson on a rail through the streets of the village, must answer to the Lake County Grand Jury for their act. State's Attorney Ralph J. Dady, announced today that evidence is being gathered against members of the party.

Mrs. Richardson was called to the porch of her residence one evening last week by a neighbor, a powerful woman, who threw her arms around Mrs. Richardson and carried her to the street, where seven accomplices were waiting with a long fence rail. They carried the screaming prisoner down the main street and back.

Answering for their act, the women asserted they believed Mrs. Richardson to be too friendly with her brother-in-law, Richardson, who is lame, aided his wife in leaving Volo at once and she is in Chicago. She will be called to Waukegan to testify.

TRAFFIC POLICEMEN TO APPEAR IN SHIRT SLEEVES

They Also Will Wear White
Caps in Indianapolis Change,
Suggested by Mayor Shanks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—Shirt sleeves and white duck caps are to replace the heavy helmet and blue coat of the traffic policemen just as soon as the officers can be supplied with the changes in the uniform. The change is made on the suggestion of Mayor Lew Shanks of potato fame, seconded by Superintendent of Police Martin J. Hyland.

White roll collars and narrow black bow ties are to be worn with the shirt waists and the traffic officers have been asked to have their "gun pockets" deepened so that their revolvers will not show.

Superintendent Hyland said today the shirt-waist privilege stopped with the traffic squad. A patrolman can hunt the shadier side of the street if he gets warm, the superintendent said.

At a Marvelous Rate, Buying Activities Continue in This Wonderful

An important feature about this Removal Sale is its great helpfulness because of the radical nature of the price reductions & the far-reaching saving possibilities, since the entire $1,500,000 stock is included.

It does not take a person of keen discernment to see the advantages of buying Summer apparel & needs here now. It requires no judge of merchandise to pick out bargains because every item in the store is a pronounced bargain. The suggestion is not amiss, however, of anticipating the Fall & Winter needs & supplying them now. Hundreds of thrift-inclined folks are extending their purchases to needs that will not come for months, but on which the economies are so unusual that good business judgment prompts immediate buying.

With EVERY ARTICLE in our ENTIRE STOCK reduced from 10% to 50% & more, except in a limited few lines of restricted price, buying interest maintains at the high pitch it has from the beginning of the sale, & the most remarkable value-giving in the business history of St. Louis continues after nearly four weeks of unprecedented selling.

THE vast proportions of this merchandising occasion still makes the quoting of prices impractical, & this space is given over to the mere recounting of the inherent possibilities in this distribution of our entire stock. Every plan we can devise is in operation to facilitate the buying & to speed the parting of present stocks in preparation for removal to our wonderful new home early in September.

Friday: Remnant & Odd Lot Day

Wherever the Activities of This Removal Sale Have Reduced Lots to Small Quantities, Prices Are Named to Promptly Clear Them Out

Friday is a day when little money will buy a great deal of merchandise. Thousands of St. Louis women have recollections of the vast savings possibilities which the regular BARGAIN FRIDAY has always brought them, but tomorrow we can promise even greater surprises than have been given in weeks gone by through the 100 SPECIALS.

Throughout every section of the store, wherever small lots & limited quantities of stock have sold, down to a few of a number, kind, color or to remnants, they will be arranged for quick selection Friday at prices so low as are calculated to completely dispose of them on this day.

Through this sweeping plan thousands of bargain lots will be offered at a mere fraction of the regular worth, & shoppers who come here Friday will find abundant chances for effecting the most extraordinary savings in dependable merchandise which they will have immediate need for.

It would be an endless task to enumerate items and prices; it is impractical to even mention lines or departments that will be represented, but in any and every stock where oddments or short lots are, here will be found these golden opportunities.

Early shoppers will, of course, have first chance & will reap the greatest benefits. Store opens at 8 o'clock.

STORE HOURS: Daily 8 A. M. Until 5 P. M. Saturdays 8 A. M. Until 1 P. M.

ASSISTED BY A TORNADO

A REJECTED lover, a fortuitous meeting and a funnel shaped cloud that brought order out of chaos.

By MAUD LEONARD TOWSON.

"I DO not understand in the least," Robert" said Miss Mackay. When Louise Mackay called him by his full name in that tone of voice, Bob Murray usually backed down at once. But this time he felt amply supported by the facts in the case.

"I'm sorry, Louie," he said with apparent distress. "Of course if I had known you were upon this special Santa Fe train nothing would have induced me to get on at the last station. Just because my business demands that I should reach Chicago instantly would not have counted in the least, and I should cheerfully have waited over a day in that charming Kansas village—the hottest, most glaring, desolate spot of paralyzed nothingness I ever struck."

By this time Miss Mackay was repenting her attack on him. She felt she could easily be accused of taking too much for granted.

The beautiful face beneath the severe traveling hat flushed. She even managed a smile.

"Don't be absurd, Bob," she said politely. "But of course—your suddenly appearing out of nowhere—and in a situation where I couldn't escape you—and after I had told you!"

Mr. Murray with one motion picked up his traveling bag and moved into the vacant seat beside the girl.

"You didn't think for a minute, did you," he began calmly, "that because I refused to marry me when I asked you a month ago in Frisco, adding the kindly afterthought that I was to stop bothering you and keep out of your sight unless sent for, that I was going to spend the rest of my life skulking in the tall timber dodging you? Just because you think you don't care for me is no!"

She drew herself up stiffly.

"There was nothing haphazard about my decision," she said coldly. "I am quite sure I don't like you well enough to marry you. As you won't be just friends, there was no course open to me but to ask you to stay away."

She sighed as she looked at him, for Bob Murray was a well-favored, manly fellow. Then she turned her head sharply and gazed out on the overhanging prairies with their scorched crops drooping in the heat.

"As I was saying," went on Mr. Murray imperturbably, "your whimsical idea that we were not made for each other in previous intimacies with my intention of showing you where you are."

The shoulder nearest him shrugged expressively, the visible ear turned wrathfully pink. Mr. Murray grinned then grew serious. It is no laughing matter when the girl of your heart tells you pointblank you are mistaken as to the state of her emotions.

What new line of attack he opened his mouth to make no one ever knew, for of a sudden the hum and dump of the car, and the silence of the weary passengers, was broken by a scurry and rush towards the rear door.

With one accord Murray and Miss Mackay also jumped to their feet. The cause of the excitement needed no explanatory words.

Coming after them, exactly down the track, whirling, lifting, dipping, was a black, funnel-shaped cloud. It was miles away, but nearing rapidly.

With what looked like diabolical cunning it persistently kept to the track. There was an instant of horrified silence, and then the passengers went crazy for a few minutes.

Like pennant rats in a trap they fought for doors and windows, but conductor and brakeman looked the exits, and the speed of the train effectually discouraged the window route.

The engineer had seen the danger and opened the throttle wide; the train whirled and bumped over the ties with much the same motion as the death-dealing black cloud chasing it.

After the first shock Murray instinctively drew closer to the girl. Her face had turned clear white, her lips were tightly pressed together.

Amid the screaming, frantic women who stood seemingly dazed, staring with fascinated eyes at the whirling demon in their wake. If it caught them, it meant death, nothing less. Every ounce of steam was on, yet their pace seemed agonizingly slow. The cloud was gaining on them.

With a quick impulse Murray crushed both her limp hands in his own, and she turned frightened eyes to his compelling ones. There was a certain solemnity about his face which was new and impressive.

"Louise!" He spoke low and fast. In the confusion nobody paid the slightest attention to them; they could not have been any more alone had they stood in the middle of the gray desert far back on the Santa Fe line or on one of the lonely mountain peaks long since passed.

The situation had become instantly perilous. There was but a man, a woman and the whirling elements of the air.

"Louise," he said, "be honest with me now—it can't matter much one way or the other—for by the looks of things there aren't many more minutes left for either of us—but tell me, dear, honestly—don't you really care for me? Don't you intend to tell me yes finally—after you had humbled me sufficiently?"

A this was a most accurate guess at Miss Mackay's intention, though she had never admitted it even to herself. She turned instantly angry at being discovered. For a second she forgot the cyclone, and her eyes flashed as she writhed away her hands.

"What are you conceited and—impatient?" she gasped, keeping her balance with difficulty in the swaying car. "How dare you assume I love you?"

CHOOSING AN OCCUPATION

Photography is a growing business which an earnest student may learn.

By CELIA K. HUSIK.

A GROWING business is at all times profitable to take up. Photography is one of these. The demands for good photographic work today are steadily increasing. The line of moving pictures alone requires daily the services of many able photographers, both men and women, competent to do good work.

The enthusiastic amateur photographer can hardly make a mistake in entering this field with a view of making it his life work. In order to do that successfully he should possess (besides a love for the work) artistic perception, a quick, accurate eye, and should be patient and painstaking. The latter is of great importance in working out details and in retouching.

The best way, usually, to learn the art of photography is to apprentice oneself to a successful photographer. An earnest desire to learn the work in all its details will find its reward. Some photographers pay learners during their period of study, while others do not.

It is always advisable to take up some special branch of photography after the regular routine of the work has been mastered. There are several important branches to choose from—portrait photography, scenic photography, interior photography and others. To specialize in only one of these fields of photography is often the wisest course to pursue, for few can master successfully all of them.

There is no special system of pay for photographers. The profession is rather loosely organized, and there is much diversity in income, hours of work, and other conditions. Usually the pay ranges from $15 to $25 per week. Good, competent workers can earn much more.

The successful photographer, with a good business head will do very well to go into business for himself. Here, particularly, his own efforts and ability will count in bringing the returns.

I can personally give an instance of a young man with natural ability in this line who started working at $3 per week in a studio. After 12 years of hard work he has developed a business that pays him more today than $10,000 annually.

To the amateur photographer, therefore, as well as to others who have ability in this direction, photography offers a good field full of many possibilities and excellent opportunities.

34.—Hawaiian Islands.

THE Hawaiian Islands were annexed to the United States in July, 1898, at the urgent request of the inhabitants. People live on seven of the islands. One, which was once inhabited, is now deserted; and there are 12 smaller islands not lived upon. All the islands taken together are not as large as the State of New Jersey.

The Hawaiian Islands are volcanic and the decaying lava makes a wonderfully rich soil. As there is much rain there, things grow as if by magic. The principal crop is sugar cane, but there are also enormous quantities of pineapples and bananas there.

Some of the volcanoes on the islands are not dead. Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii, is the largest active volcano in the world. The crater is about nine miles around and in the center is a great lake of molten lava, which rises and falls like water. At night this red-hot, quivering mass is one of the most wonderful sights in the world.

At present there are only about 20,000 native Hawaiians left out of nearly 130,000. Other inhabitants are Americans, Portuguese, Chinese, Japanese, etc.

A La Sherlock H.

WE had taken the train at Dupont Circle and as we swung around into Connecticut avenue I said to my companion:

"Do you see that lady across the aisle?"

"You mean the left-handed girl?"

"I mean the one with the blue scarf."

"Yes, the left-handed one."

"My dear," I replied, "I acknowledge that you have reduced deduction to a science, but surely you are jesting when you pretend to say that you can pick out a left-handed girl at a glance."

"Nothing easier, my dear Watson. By glancing at her hat you will see that she is wearing an enormous hat pin and that the jeweled head of the pin is on the left side of her millinery. Nothing easier, my dear Watson—a mere trifle."—Washington Star.

A NOVEL means was adopted in searching the country for this child. Her picture was flashed upon the screens of moving picture houses in cities all over the country. She was taken from her home in Revere, Mass. The child's mother notified the police and efforts were made to trace the child by means of circulars. A woman in far-away California, who had heard of the mother's grief over her lost daughter, suggested the use of moving picture houses. This plan was adopted, and the little girl and her father, who is accused of kidnapping her, have been shown time and again in cities East, West, North and South.

His Literal Wife.

M R IVES has a mind that delights in facts. One evening he laid down the paper, was silent for a moment, and then said:

"That's odd."

"What is it?" inquired his wife.

"Why, here is a man who says that it would take twelve million years to pump the sea dry at the rate of a thousand gallons a second."

Mrs. Ives sat thinking the matter over. Finally, she said:

"Why, Henry, where would they put all the water?"—Lippincott's.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy to Have

(Elberta Beld in Woman's Tribune.)

You who desire to regain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle-remover, mix an ounce of powdered azotelle and a half pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercurochrome wax at any drug store and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this morrowings with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. I know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.—ADT.

NICKNAMES OF GREAT MEN

SOME day, when at last I have obtained my divorce and ceased to toil, I am going to devote my leisure to a study of the Stable Names of the Great. You know what a stable name is, of course. You know that a racing mare called Czarina Olga Fedorovna in the dope sheets is not Czarina Olga Fedorovna in the stable, nor even Czarina or Olga, but usually plain Lil or Jennie. And you know, too, that a prize bulldog called Champion Zoroaster II on the bench is often plain Jack or Ponto in the kennel. So with the eminent of the genus homo. The official style and appellation of the late King Edward VII was Edward, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Emperor of India—but his wife called him Bertie. And the wife of Kaiser Wilhelm calls him Willie.

But what of even greater merit? What was Herbert's stable name? Did his wife call him Henrik formally, harshly—or did she tone it down to Hen, Henny, Harry, Rik or Hank? And Bismarck? Did the Fürstin ever call him Ottochen? Or Ottily? Both favorites at the German hearth! And Tolstoy? By Russian custom he was Leo Nikolajevitch to his friends—but was he ever Lee or Nicky to the Countesses? What was Grant to his wife? Certainly not Ulysses, an inhuman, impossible name! And Napoleon? And Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart? And Honore Balzac? And Robert Browning? Was he ever Bob? And John Wesley? Was he ever Jack? And Emmanuel Swedenborg? Was he ever Manny—Owen Hatters in Smart Set.

Didn't Like Americans.

THE London Chronicle says that Dr. Johnson would not have bestowed his benediction upon the British committee for the celebration of the one hundred years' peace. "I am willing to love all mankind, except an American," he said. Miss Seward, who heard the remark, had the temerity to say: "Sir, this is an instance that we are always most violent against those we have injured," whereupon the great man, according to Boswell, "roared out another tremendous volley, which one might fancy could be heard across the Atlantic."

LOVE AND COURTESY

BETTY VINCENT.

A Girl and Her Mother
If the girl will permit it, the average mother will be of real help to her daughter in establishing pleasant social relations with young men.

For instance, the girl who lives at home is not supposed to ask young men to call on her. She does this sometimes, I know, but it is against the laws of etiquette. It is absolutely proper for the girl's mother to ask young men to call.

And though, according to the general custom in this country, she is not supposed to remain with the young people during the entire evening, she should be present at first, and with her added social experience may be of great help in breaking the ice.

Wedding Presents.

F W writes: "Should a present be sent to a newly married couple after receiving an announcement of their wedding? No invitation was received."

An announcement is not necessarily followed by a gift. It all depends upon how well you know the persons in the case. Gifts should only be made when the host dictates them.

"I'm Sorry!"

A PERSON in the wrong only gets deeper in when he refuses to say "I'm sorry."

Some sorts of pride are excellent and not to be criticized. But they do not include the stupid, self-righteous variety which prompts its possessor never to express repentance. Such pride is admirable in neither man nor woman.

If two young persons quarrel, it's ninety-nine chances out of a hundred that each is in some measure to blame. And you know the old adage, "Two it takes to make a quarrel; one can always end it." The one, of course, is he or she who first apologizes. The other party to the disagreement is almost always ashamed not to go half way and shoulder a share of the blame.

And then it's clear weather, with two more happy persons in the world.

Take the Initiative.

S B writes: "I am corresponding with a young lady in another state whom I have never seen. She asks me to send her my picture. Should I be the first to do this, or should I wait for one from her? I think you ought not to expect the young lady to take the initiative."

Keep on Trying.

J L writes: "I am in love with a girl whom I shall not see for some time to come. I write to her often and send her presents, but her love has not yet responded to mine. How can I win her?"

Anything in China Ware.

J S writes: "Please tell me what would be an appropriate present for a wife on the twentieth anniversary of her marriage? That is the china wedding, so why not give her a piece of china?"

A HUNT FOR A HUSBAND

A N heiress' butterfly quest for the right Man told for the Post-Dispatch serially.

By W. V. POLLOCK.

10.—The Jealous Summer Man.

CAMP life at Lake Tahoe with Georgia E. had been so exhilarating that after we came east we opened our camp at Upper Saranac Lake.

Several other families had homes near us and among ourselves and our guests we formed quite an independent colony. There were enough to have golf and tennis tournaments, motor boat races, masquerades, progressive whist and shooting contests. One of the institutions of our life up there was afternoon tea at the G—'s. This 5 o'clock collation was different from any other I had ever partaken of.

Crisp salads served frothy milk from huge pitchers, fruit-ices from punch bowls, coffee and tea from steaming urns, and delicious sandwiches and cakes of every variety. One afternoon we all steamed in, hungry and warm, from our excursions to this general meeting place and Raymond R., a friend of Fay W—'s, was presented to me.

I had met Raymond before at dances and he had always flattered me by asking me for more dances than I could give him.

He possessed the qualifications which can make a summer so ideal and which every girl hopes to find in her summer catch.

Raymond was a champion tennis player and helped me to improve my game. In paddling, rowing and swimming his superior skill lent assistance to my feminine shortcomings.

It seemed that our romance could end only in one way—in matrimony. The only blot on the scutcheon was Raymond's jealous disposition. Fay came up toward the end of the month and brought with him Edgar L., a very handsome chap whom I had gone about with in town. When Raymond saw Edgar he accused me of having deliberately invited him because I had a secret admiration for him. I assured him I had not known Edgar was coming. And in rather impolite language Raymond told me he did not believe me.

The next day I played tennis with Edgar and rode with him in the afternoon. At night mamma was giving a dinner dance at our house and Raymond tried to assume a very indifferent, irresponsible attitude toward me.

Afterward one of the men told me that Raymond had taken six cocktails before dinner, and during dinner and the dance I noticed that he drank a great deal of champagne.

He danced every dance with Evelyn L., whom he had always before ignored, and incorporated steps into his dancing which were highly original and unnecessary.

The next morning he telephoned and asked to be allowed to see me. I frigidly refused to see him. He then dispatched his valet with a note saying he had not slept all night and that he could not rest until he had explained his behavior. His note was followed by another telephone message and by this time my curiosity as to what he had to say was so intense that I allowed him to call.

He said that when I went out riding with Edgar he had wandered in the woods to a gypsy encampment and one of the gypsies had told him his fortune. Among other things she had told him that he was in love with a girl who did not care for him. "He thought of my riding with Edgar; and his jealousy was so violent that he was almost desperate. And that was why he had drunk so much and had danced all evening with another girl."

He expected me to forgive him, but I decided that I could never be happy with a man of his disposition. No husband was certainly preferable to an Othello.

Marse' Page Goes to Co'te.

These verses by Robert Bridges were read at a dinner of the Lotus Club in New York, in honor of Thomas Nelson Page, shortly before he left this country as Ambassador to Italy:

S ARVENT, Marse! Is dis de cote whar my Marse Tom is 'bleeged to go. Warin' short pants and his best coat—Lookin' mighty gran', I tell you so? You'd know? 'Baadur, he is—Biggerin' the President, sho' it is!

Golly, boy, is you de King. Warin' 'n' all dat lace an' gol. Powder haid, an' big brass ring. And stuffed wid all de pride you'll hol'?

Well, I 'clar ter Gode! A sarvin' man! And I done think you royal and gran'!

Yes, sah, I've Unc' Gab's, Marse Page's man. I raise dat chile, an' hol' his han' And tuk him to school, an' writ his books.

And brung him up to min' his looks. Day ain' nuffin' dat boy knows. I ain' put on 'im wid de clo'es. All de folkses he writ about Were 'sackly as I foun' 'em out: Gordon Keith, Meh Lady, an' Marse Chan.

Dr. Cas and dat nigger Sam, Mistress Polly and Jacquelin Gray Were fren's o' mine, an' people say Dat Marse Tom woun'd 'a' got to co'te. Ef he didn't wrote 'em down jas ez I tho't.

Dar's de King? He su'f'nly is quality! You told dat King Marse Tom's as good ez he; D' an' nuffin' Ole Ferguson, I know. Better'n our folks is—jes' so!

An' wen America wants her best Ole Ferguson leads all de rest—De President, Marse Tom an' me Is jes a few of de quality. Bow yo' haid, you onnery cuss—Dat's Marse Tom a lookin' at us!

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. M'CARDELL

Little Emma Jarr makes triumphal progress to the police station.

MEANWHILE, where was Emma Jarr, the little lost child? Going in an opposite direction from her parents were looking for her, of course.

The-to her-delightful sights and sounds held her enthralled. She clutched tightly the little yellow cane-pennant inscribed "Votes for Women!" which she had insisted upon having after she had been refused candy, ice cream cones, frankfurters and popcorn, under the pure food laws of Mrs. Jarr's prejudices.

Past the phonograph booths, past the roaring roller coasters, past the tides of pleasure-seekers ebbed and flowed, past the orangeade stands, the taffy machines and the carousals, the little Jarr girl trotted, serene and care-free. And then of a sudden she looked around and saw she was alone.

She threw back her head and emitted a long, piercing wail.

"What's the matter, little girl?" asked an old lady, carrying a palm leaf fan and a net shopping bag containing a bottle of milk, some bananas and a package of crackers. "Here, take this!"

And she handed little Miss Jarr a slab of very yellow taffy with teeth marks at the end. "I was afraid it might make my little grandson sick," the old lady added. "And I gave him a ride on the hobby horses if he'd let me have it. Hurry and eat it before he comes!"

"Your little girl, ma'am?" asked a tall, thin individual, bending over the weeping child and peering at her through horn spectacles. The owl-like aspect the heavyrimmed glasses gave the man further increased the fright of the child, and she shrieked and stamped. "You should bring up the character of the child by denying it nothing, ma'am," advised the horn-spectacled person.

"Lord bless us!" retorted the old lady. "It isn't my child. I've got three grandchildren with me and they're riding that machine in there and I'm waiting for them. I don't know whose little girl this is."

"I want my mamma! I want my papa! I want my brother Willie!"

"Oh, it's nothing," said a fat man, tall, thin as 400 children get lost on a crowded Sunday.

"What's your name, little girl?" asked the old lady. "Where do you live?" But little Miss Jarr only shrieked and stamped.

"The Mind-Over-Matter Method inculcates self-control," remarked the man in the horn spectacles. "When we see a child in fright and panic, as this one is, we have only another result of the rotteness of the present public school system. It is a failure! They teach a child to be a c's. But do they teach it self-reliance? I pause for an answer!"

And if he paused for an answer he got none. Several sympathetic mothers now surrounded the lost little Miss Jarr, and all of them began berating the carelessness of mothers who let their charges stray away, this discussion being only diverted by their own charges straying.

"There! Don't cry, little girl!" remarked a young man who worked his way to the center of the little knot of people. "Here's a quarter. Now get on the cars and go right home. The conductor will see she gets home all right."

"Yes, perhaps she's from some place nearby. Here's another quarter," said the fat man.

At this some seven or eight other persons, imbued with the belief that there was no trouble money, could not soothe, pressed silver coins upon the sobbing little girl.

"Maybe she's hungry, poor little dear!" remarked the old lady. "Will you have a drink of milk?" But little Miss Jarr, now crying in a piteous manner, for she was rather an joying being the center of so much interest, declared "she didn't want milk, she wanted an ice cream cone."

Several were immediately purchased and thrust upon her, and then a frankfurter and a roll, liberally painted with very brilliant, yellow mustard, was handed the child. This was followed by several packages of popcorn, some gingerbread and an orange, until the child's arms were filled with tributes.

"What's the trouble?" asked a policeman, shoving his way through the throng that now blocked the progress of holiday-makers and even the holiday traffic of trolley cars and autos.

"I want a ride in the goat cart!" sniffed little Miss Jarr, noting such an equipage.

"Yes, ride her to the station in the goat car," said the fat man. "Boy!" this to the goat driver. "Here's a half dollar! Drive the little lady to the police station."

"I wanna dwum, an' I wanna balloon!" sniffed the heroine of this momentous adventure.

These were purchased and supplied her. And seated in the goat cart laden with gifts and unhealthful holiday eatables, little Miss Jarr, was drawn in triumph to the police station.

Father Should Have Said:

I N a recent issue we told the story of a boy who wrote home for a supply of cash. Appended to the boy's letter was the following postscriptum:

"I felt so ashamed at having asked you to send me $10 that I ran to the postoffice to get my letter back. Unfortunately, it had gone."

So much for the story. C. L. Nichols, sends the following excellent addition:

The boy's father answered as follows:

"My Dear Son: I am sorry you had that trip to the postoffice and felt shame at what you wrote. It was all for nothing. I never received your letter. Affectionately, "YOUR FATHER."

Too Dry.

"NEVER see any more sea serpents around here?"

"No," replied the coast dweller. "What do you suppose killed 'em off?"

"I dunno, but I have my suspicion it was local option."

HE MISSED "INCIDENTAL MUSIC."

R. C. CAMPBELL, secretary of the O'Neil Lumber Co., says that he took an out-of-town customer to the theater, and as the two men sat reading their programs, waiting for the curtain to rise, his rural friend made a discovery.

"I see," said the bucolic one, "there are to be two plays tonight."

"How's that?" inquired Campbell.

"Well, on one page," replied the keen-eyed one, "I see 'Synopsis' and on the other 'Cast of Characters.'"
